Five. Selection of Admitted Students

5.1. The AE results and other relevant information of registrants shall be transferred from the EEC to the admission system, and the corresponding calculations shall be made. The admission score list for each program of constituent or branch schools shall be issued one day after the close of admission registration.

5.2. A subject score counted as a core examination result shall not be double-counted as a supplementary examination result.

5.3. The score of a registrant shall be calculated as follows: the highest subject score designated as a core examination result shall be multiplied by 0.7, and the highest subject score designated as a supplementary examination result shall be multiplied by 0.3. The calculated admission score shall be the sum of these two. The threshold scores for programs of constituent/branch schools and joint programs shall follow those specified in Table 1 of this Procedure.

5.4. In the event of tied admission scores (in the case of identical calculated admission scores), the percentage performance in the AE shall be calculated and used to determine ranking and admission. If the percentage performance is also equal, the following shall be considered in order: the average grade on the educational certificate, the core subject score, the core subject performance, the Mongolian language and literature score, the Mongolian language and literature performance, and the AE average score. The percentage performance in the AE shall be calculated in accordance with the methodology specified in Section 5.3 of this Procedure.

2	90-94.9	720-759
3	85-89.9	680-719

9	0-59	200-489

5.6. The standardized score of the skills examination shall be calculated as a supplementary examination score. If the raw score of the examinee is between 0 and 59, the standardized score shall be calculated by the formula $X = 200 + A \cdot 4.66$. If the raw score of the examinee is between 60 and 100, the standardized score shall be calculated by the formula $X = 490 + (A - 60) \cdot 8$.
